

Technology and Learning Quotes

Educating the mind without educating the heart is no education at all.

Aristotle

I have never let my schooling interfere with my education.

Mark Twain

We ask 18-year-olds to make huge decisions about their career and financial future, when a month ago they had to ask to go to the bathroom.

Adam Kotsko

The role of the teacher is to create the conditions for invention rather than provide ready-made knowledge.

Seymour Papert

Our technology, our machines, is part of our humanity. We created them to extend ourselves, and that is what is unique about human beings.

Ray Kurzweil

Clutter is a failure of design, not an attribute of information.

Edward Tufte

When Students cheat on exams it's because our School System values grades more than Students value learning.

Neil Degrasse Tyson

I never teach my pupils. I only attempt to provide the conditions in which they can learn.

Albert Einstein

The future has already arrived. It's just not evenly distributed yet.

William Gibson

The illiterate of the 21st century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn, and relearn.

Alvin Toffler

When I'm working on a problem, I never think about beauty. I think only how to solve the problem. But when I have finished, if the solution is not beautiful, I know it is wrong.

R. Buckminster Fuller

The child who is not embraced by the village will burn it down to feel its warmth.

African proverb

We become what we behold. We shape our tools and then our tools shape us.

Marshall McLuhan

Classrooms don't need tech geeks who can teach; we need teaching geeks who can use tech.

David Guerin

The only difference between 'I'm techie' and 'I'm not techie' is the willingness to click on stuff and see what happens.

Alice Keeler

Any teacher that can be replaced with a computer, deserves to be.

David Thornburg

Teachers need to stop saying, “Hand it in,” and start saying “Publish It.”

Alan November

Don’t rely on the adults too much. Most of them mean well, but they just don’t understand the world. In the past, it was a relatively safe bet to follow the adults, because they knew the world quite well, and the world changed slowly... Because of the increasing pace of change, you can never be certain whether what the adults are telling you is timeless wisdom or outdated bias.

Yuval Noah Harari

We drive into the future using only our rearview mirror.

Marshall McLuhan